Featuring “The Sea Venture: Bermuda, Jamestown, Tobacco and Shakespeare”

When doing genealogical research into his family, Depot Museum member Bob Herner discovered an interesting saga related to the establishment of the Jamestown Colony. The story involves the passengers of the largest ship in the 3rd resupply mission to Jamestown Colony in 1609, their shipwreck on Bermuda, the tobacco trade in Virginia, slavery and even Shakespeare. Bob will also discuss the discovery of this story and how it relates to his personal family history.
